DETAILED OFFICE ACTION

INTRODUCTION

1. This application/control number 10/071516 has been examined. This is final action on the merits of the claimed invention. The application has claims 15-20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 15-16, 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kaizuka (US5941253).

Kaizuka discloses a hair curling roller (A) having a hollow cylindrical shell (2), characterized in that the cylindrical shell (2) and a glove (4) composed of a blended material (column 1, line38-41) of thermo-resistant material and ion-powders, the ion-powders (column 2, table1) is composed of a blended mixture of powders including anhydrous silicon (SiO.sub.2), aluminum oxide (AL.sub.2O.sub.3), iron oxide (Fe.sub.2O.sub.3), calcium oxide (CaO), magnesium oxide (MgO), potassium oxide(K.sub.2O), sodium oxide (Na.sub.2O) and manganese oxide (MnO), the hair curling roller comprising a heating element (7) within cylindrical shell (2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaizuka (US5941253) as applied to claims 15-16, 18-20 above.

Kaizuka discloses the claimed invention except for the size of the particles of the ion-powders being less than 10 μm in diameter. Kaizuka is silent regarding particular size of the particles., but discloses a firm curl in a short period of time thus preventing damage to hair thanks to the negative ions generated from the surface of the cylindrical shell (2) and a glove (4). It would have been obvious matter of design choice to have the size of the particles of the ion-powders being less than 10 μm in diameter, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 5-12-2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. During examination, claim limitations are to be given their broadest reasonable reading. In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319, 321, 13 USPQ2d 1320, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 1989); In re Prater, 415 F.2d 1393, 1404-05, 162 USPQ 541, 550-51 (CCPA 1969).

In examiner's opinion, the broadest reasonable interpretation of a hair curling roller includes an electric iron for hair dressing. Hair can be rolled on cylindrical hollow shell and hair can be curled. Kaizuka discloses (abstract, lines 1-2) "An electric iron for hair dressing makes it possible to realize a firm curl in a short period of time" and hair can be roll on the cylindrical hollow shell (2) which is filled with a heater (7) as shown in the Figure 1 and 2.
